

Creating a Research Plan
English 2010

Name: _____

You have to write a 5-page essay taking a position on whether schools should ban junk food vending machines. Develop a research plan that addresses the following:

1. What do you already know about your topic or issue?	2. What do you need to know in order to better understand your topic or issue? List at least 3 research questions that you will need to explore.	3. For each of your research questions, describe what kind of information source might provide the answer to that question and how you would find that type of information source.
